

Why does COVID-19 incentivate risks in the exercise of public authority?

Substantial volume of public resources at stake

Speediness to act (emergency)

Increase of world demand of supplies

- Weakening of the ordinary supervision and control systems
- Lesser transparency before and after
- Accountability postponement
- Relaxation of the formalisation systems in decisions

Gaps in the lobbying regulatory framework

Unequal capacity of the most vulnerable groups to communicate their needs